WOMAN'S VOICE

In the Campaign will be Raised for Honest Government.

SHE EXERTS GREAT INFLUENCE

The Woman's Republican Organization
Proposes to Wage an Active Warfare.
Some Good Missionary Work—Methods
Employed by the Organization in New York—Opening the Eyes of the Blind.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The Press says: Women in bloomers and women in politics so long have furnished food for professional jesters and the struggling humorists that the public has come to look upon them as a sort of twin sisters, equally amusing and equally harmless. But no one knows better than the veteran campaigner how mistaken is the public in its opinion of the woman in politics; he recognizes in her a powerful ally and a successful vote getter, and he treats her as such.

For weeks Miss Helen Varick Boswell, chairman of the Woman's Republican Association, has been almost a daily visitor at the Republican headquarters, and no astute politician with deep-laid and cunning schemes for conducting the campaign is received with more attention and courtesy.

She is a born politician, confirmed in the Republican faith, and, as the following little incident shows, she actually stays awake the nights thinking up schemes for defeating the enemy. Not long ago her maid, who has caught some of her mistress's political enthusiasm, and who takes a great if not altogether enlightened interest in the issues of the day, came to Miss Boswell and confessed that her father, the janitor of a neighboring flat, was going to vote for Bryan and free silver. "You see," she explained rather apologetically, "they tell us we will have more money if we get free silver, and, of course, that's what us poor people needs most. He says money weren't never so scarce with him as it is now, and he guesses he'll have to vote for Mr. Bryan."

Her First Convert.

Never did a missionary ponder longer over a method of reaching a benighted heathen than did Miss Boswell in her efforts to show that misguided janitor the error of his reasoning. A good part of that night she thought about it, and before she went to sleep she had hit upon a plan which she hoped would be successful. The next morning, when the janitor dropped in to see his daughter, she met him and asked him if he really had made up his mind to vote for Bryan and free silver. The janitor admitted that he had.

"You see," he began, "we'll have more money then, and that's what I need most."

"You have a sister in the old country still, haven't you, John?" Miss Boswell interrupted.

"Two of them."

"And do you ever send them any money?"

"Indeed I do. Whenever I can lay by a pound, they get it regular."

"You take down about five dollars now, don't you, and buy an exchange?"

"About that."

"Now do you realize that just as soon as we have free silver you will have to pay ten dollars instead of five for every pound you send to your sisters?"

John had not realized it, and the knowledge rather stunned him. Miss Boswell then explained to him in a manner which he could understand how England and all the countries of Europe would refuse to accept our dollar, devalued by free coinage, and when John left the house it was with the firm conviction that the election of Bryan was the worst thing that could happen to him and his sisters.

This, and other plans of presenting the issue fairly and clearly to the poorer classes, Miss Boswell has submitted to Chairman Charles W. Hackett, and he, with his colleagues, have been so impressed with them that they have decided to "stand behind" the Woman's Republican Association and to recognize it as fully as any other campaign organization.

Well Organized Campaign.

By the middle of this week headquarters will be established for the association at Broadway and Forty-second street. Rooms amply large enough to suit the needs of the organization have been rented, and they will be furnished and paid for by the national committee. All the literature and the regular campaign ammunition which men's clubs received, well equipped from the same source.

The association is thoroughly organized, and from its headquarters it intends to begin at once a definite and well-laid plan of action against the enemy.

In the tenement house district, where the free silver heresy already has crept in, the women propose to wage an active battle. Not only will little political tracts, carefully edited and setting forth in the simplest language the vital questions of the campaign, be scattered broadcast, but missionaries from headquarters will go among the women, reasoning personally with them against the false doctrine which they have listened to for months. These women of the tenements are in many cases the purse-holders of the family, and to a great extent they control the votes of their husbands and brothers.

It is through them that the association aims to reach the actual voter.

"I control thirty votes in this very flat," declared a stout woman with a fat, round smile, and an Erin-sober accent, "and never a man of 'em will vote for that crazy free silver fad, not from this flat!" One of the missionaries had employed the argument that converted the janitor upon the stout woman, who was also a doubter, and with the same satisfactory result. Thousands of people in the tenements have relatives whom they are either supporting in the old country or are sending money to bring them here, and to explain to them that it is not often that they will see their little pound which they send religiously and regularly across the sea will only be worth half a pound when it gets there is the most convincing and clinching argument that can be used.

Work in Factory Districts.

Mrs. Clarence Burns, who has devoted years of her life in aiding the poor in the East Side, and is thoroughly conversant with the slums, has charge of the tenement house bureau of the campaign, and with her are associated several experienced women.

Next to the tenements the women managers consider the factory districts the most fertile field for sowing the seed of honest government. The scheme there is to make noonday addresses to the employees. Several women have offered to speak to the men and women at their noonday meal, and it is not often that an employer is found who refuses to permit his employees to talk to the men. In the factory districts the tariff as well as the currency question is treated, the association believing that that issue is vitally important to the factory hands as in the other and should not be subordinated to it. Mrs. Florence Kirkwood is at the head of this branch of the work, and she also has a number of able assistants.

For the women of Murray Hill, as distinguished from those of Cherry Hill, an equally comprehensive plan has been perfected. Among the better educated classes pamphlets explaining the silver question and the most important planks of the two platforms will be circulated freely, and an earnest effort made to convince these women of the vital importance of keeping their husbands and brothers in town on election day, or at least keeping them here long enough for them to cast their ballots.

In recent years it has become the proper thing among fashionable people to hurry away from town as fast as they can on election day. Dinners and parties invariably are given now at the nearby country clubs, and a certain part of the town is deserted on election day. By persuading the women to stay in town the association reasons that a great deal of the out-of-town attractions will be removed, and that the men will perform their first duty as citizens and vote the right ticket.

To Convert the Villagers.

Although the city is of primary importance, the campaign as laid out by no means is confined to the metropolis. Powerful auxiliaries are scattered throughout the length and breadth of the state and they will all work for a common end. In Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and all the larger interior towns there are organizations of women just as interested in the political welfare of the nation as here in New York and just as earnest in their efforts to preserve its honor and integrity. In these cities the campaign will be conducted on lines similar to those already mentioned, but in the little country villages and hamlets a different course must be pursued.

Miss Boswell and her lieutenants have evolved a plan which they are positive will succeed in nine cases out of ten. Foreign missions is to be the lever by which the association expects to open the minds of the country people to the fallacy of the free silver argument. If there is one thing in the country more absorbing to the women's minds than another, it is the foreign mission cause. Almost every town supports from one to six foreign missions societies, and the country is covered with religious enthusiasm. The association proposes to lay before these societies the fact that if Bryan and his Popocratic followers are victorious, only one-half of the Biblical injunction can be carried out and only half of the nations reached.

The speakers will tell them that instead of costing $300 a year to support a mission, it will cost just twice that amount, and they propose then to show them drafts which have been sent to China, a free silver country, and which upon their return have had stamped upon them "payable only in gold." Two women, Mrs. Jane Pierce and Miss Boswell, will stump the state and expect to speak in all the principal towns and villages.

The speaking campaign will open the last week in August. The Business Women's Branch will hold an open-air meeting in some park, probably the Bronx, and there will be speeches by a number of well known speakers, who already have accepted the business women's invitation.

HON. A. R. CAMPBELL

Took Off Bryan Buttons in Tucker County—Effective Speeches.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR:—I notice some comments in the Sunday Register about the speech of ex-Senator Alex. R. Campbell of Wheeling. He made four speeches in Tucker county, and if he did as well at other points, and took off as many Bryan buttons as he did in Davis, don't wonder at an "explanation" such as appeared in the Register. In fact, the Democrats have been "explaining" ever since he made his speech.

The fact is that Mr. Campbell gave one of the most business-like and satisfactory speeches ever heard in this town, removing all doubt in our minds as to which is the right side of the money question. His speech at Parsons is also well spoken of.

SOUND MONEY.

Parsons was called to the chair and introduced the speaker of the evening, ex-Senator A. R. Campbell, in a few well chosen terms. For nearly one hour and a half Senator Campbell held the large audience and his telling points elicited rounds of applause. The silver heresy was shown up in its true light. Grant county will give one thousand Republican majority in November.

BRYAN BACKED BY MILLIONS.

Silver Barons in Whose Hands Those who Have Been Struck by the Crazy Are Playing—Facts that Talk.

As is well known, the leaders of the Democrats and Populists have been claiming that they have no money with which to carry on the campaign, that there are no wealthy men in the movement to elect Bryan, and that they must rely upon the "dear people" to help them out. That these claims were false is well known, as is also the fact that the silver barons of the west are prepared to unload a goodly portion of their wealth in order to elect a man who will permit them to coin 50 cents' worth of silver and call it a dollar.

The congressional committee has prepared a list of the leading Bryan supporters, who, while millionaires, are pretending to be the masses in order that they may become more wealthy. This list shows the enormous wealth of $547,000,000 represented by men of this class. Here is the list:

Hebert estate, California, $75,000,000.
Fair estate, California, $50,000,000.
John Mackay, California, $40,000,000.
Hogan, California, $40,000,000.
W. A. Mark, Montana, $40,000,000.
William M. Stewart, Nevada, $40,000,000.
Francis J. Newlands (Sharon estate), $35,000,000.
Dave Moffat, Denver, $30,000,000.
Senator John P. Jones (Comstock lode), $20,000,000.
Flood estate, $25,000,000.
Denver Smelting works, $25,000,000.
R. C. Chambers, Ontario silver mine, $25,000,000.
Charles E. Lane, California, $20,000,000.
L. E. Holden, Old Telegraph mine, $15,000,000.
Mark Daly, Anaconda, Montana, $15,000,000.
Butte silver and smelting works, $14,500,000.
S. T. Hauser, Granite mountain silver mines, $10,000,000.
French syndicate, Old Telegraph mine, Utah, $10,000,000.
Leadville silver smelting works, $8,500,000.
Broadwater estate, Helena, Montana, $5,000,000.
Senator Henry M. Teller, Colorado, $2,000,000.
Senator Lee Mantle, Montana, $2,000,000.

The grand total is $547,000,000.

The above table affords an interesting bird's eye view of the total wealth of but 22 of the leading silver mine owners of the west, who, either in person or through their agents have been active in shaping the 16 to 1 plank in the popular platform of the Democratic, Populist and silver conventions, recently held in St. Louis and Chicago.

To the silver mine owners the election of Bryan and of a free silver Democratic house means millions. Placing the production of their mines at 54,000,000 ounces a year, though it would soon be 100,000,000 ounces, and the government paying them at the rate of $1.29 an ounce, and granting, for the sake of argument, that it cost them 68 cents an ounce to mine the people of the United States would pay into the pockets of the silver mine owners $41,000,000 per annum, and make great monopolists of the very men who are crying out against monopolies in their platform.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
